Neomonde breads are available in more than 200 SKUs in a variety of shapes and sizes, including whole grain breads, multigrain breads, specialty breads, and artisan breads. All our products are produced by a staff of experienced bakers, some rolled in seeds or beautifully scored on top.

Give us seven to 14 days of lead time and we'll give you the products your customers want. To optimize each order, you can:

- Order in bulk, package to suit your needs
- Price to protect your profit margin
- Place large orders from full truck load to LTL

Yes, we deliver bread. But we also deliver a relationship.

We know your customer first hand. We've been serving them ourselves right over the counter from our two locations in central North Carolina for 30 years. Our line of breads has grown quite naturally, because loyal customers have raved about what works, and told us about what doesn't. We leverage that direct customer connection to better inform and manage your account.
